

Incarnation Policy for Protecting Children and Youth*

An adult leader working with children and youth must:

- Be at least 18 years old
- Have gone through the background check and screening process
- Receive basic training that includes introduction to Incarnation's Mission, Vision and Values or Discover Incarnation.

If someone has been involved at Incarnation for less than six months (measured from the first record of worship participation or giving), then the screening process will also include checking references of previous work with youth or church involvement.

Leaders under 18 years of age (who have been active participant) may serve if paired with a screened adult over 18 years of age, or when a roaming supervisor is present.

* Approved December 2009
